Floods Claim 6th Life

By George Ronald

CHATHAM, April 8—(CP)—The rampaging Thames river, running its flood-swollen course into Lake St. Clair, rose today to 19 2-3 feet above its normal level in this western Ontario city of 17,000 and threatened to spill still further over its low banks.

Fed by rain and melting snow from rich farmlands of Ontario's western peninsula, the river maintained a steady one-inch-an-hour climb and at 12:30 p.m. was eight inches below the peak of 20 feet, four inches it reached in 1937 in the most disastrous flood in the city's history.

City Manager T. M. Kingston predicted it would surpass the 1937 level by mid-afternoon.

IT ROSE THREE inches in the hour between 5 and 6 a.m. and city waterworks officials said they believed this was the so-called "crest" of the flood which brought an evacuation order for some 4,000 residents of the western section of London, Ont., two days ago and drove residents out of the nearby village of Thamesville from their homes yesterday.

HENRY FORD

Auto Pioneer Henry Ford Dies Suddenly

By David J. Willie

DETROIT, April 8—(AP)—In the flickering light of kerosene lamps and candles, Henry Ford, famed pioneer of the automobile industry, died at 11:40 last night in his home in nearby Dearborn.

HE WOULD HAVE BEEN 84 next July 30. High flood waters of the River Rouge running through the Ford estate had cut power and heating services at the residence—and a wood-burning fireplace warmed the room.

Mr. Ford's death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage. It came after the noted industrialist had spent a vigorous day inspecting a flood-water damage around the Ford plant and was making plans for another inspection this morning.

FRIENDS SAID he had never appeared in better health. At his bedside were his wife, Clara Bryant Ford, and a member of the household staff.

Funeral services will be held from St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral in Detroit Thursday when all

Ask U.N. Direct U.S. Aid

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 8—(AP)—Delegates to the Security Council cabled their governments for instructions today on Russia's surprise proposal which would give the United Nations the right to supervise American aid to Greece.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko laid the proposal before the council last night after he had vigorously attacked what he called the "unilateral" action of the United States.

He declared President Truman's program to aid Greece and Turkey constituted interference in the internal affairs of those countries.

ALTHOUGH THE Soviet resolution, calling for creation of a special Security Council commission to supervise aid to Greece, did not mention the United States program specifically, it was pointed out by some delegates that this was the only aid in sight at present.

The first reaction to the Soviet proposal was that the kind of supervision it envisaged would definitely rule out the use of the American funds for any military purposes. Since this was one of the primary aims set forth in the American program, there appeared to be little likelihood the United States could accept it.

RUSSIA'S resolution will be taken up Thursday when the council resumes discussion of the Greek question. Gromyko said he could not accept the American proposal, and objected to any action on it until some word had been received from the UN Balkan commission.

Truman, Cabinet To Discuss Prices

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—President Truman today called a special cabinet session for tomorrow to explore the price situation. Truman, who has repeatedly expressed concern over rising prices, declared in a speech Saturday he hoped industry would not go "whole hog for profits." Ordinarily the cabinet meets Friday.

BOMBAY CURFEW BOMBAY, April 8—(Reuters)—A 36-hour curfew was imposed today on a small area in central Bombay. The curfew was ordered after a stabbing incident.

King Christian X Has Heart Attack

COPENHAGEN, April 8—(AP)—King Christian X suffered a heart attack Sunday and a royal palace communiqué said today the 76-year-old monarch had been ordered to "rest for a considerable period."

The communiqué said the king had recovered from the attack. A source close to the royal court said the attack was severe and had caused respiratory difficulties. Crown Prince Frederick, spending the Easter holidays in Sweden, was notified of his father's condition and arrived here yesterday.

Last-Ditch Union Stand Possible in Main Walkout

WASHINGTON, April 8—(AP)—Federal Conciliator Peter Manno reported the government is "hopeful" of a settlement today in the long-distance phase of the United States-wide telephone strike. As negotiations resumed between the union and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company's long lines division, Manno told reporters, "We are hopeful that a settlement will be effectuated in the long lines today," but emphasized that such a settlement would not end the entire walkout of 294,000 telephone workers.

MAIN DEMAND in the strike is a $12 a week pay increase. Others include a union shop, reduction in pay differentials between cities and improved vacation and pensions plans.

While the first day of the walkout cut long distance service by 80 per cent and left millions of manually operated telephones useless, the big question remained: Just how much and how lasting is the influence wielded by the striking National and Telegraph

Reply to Gromyko

Senate Approval Of Aid Plan Asked

WASHINGTON, April 8—(AP)—Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Rep-Mich.) called on the Senate today to approve military and financial aid to Greece and Turkey to prevent "a chain reaction which would threaten peace and security around the globe."

Far from "by-passing" the United Nations, Vandenberg said in a prepared speech that the proposed $400,000,000 aid program is "the greatest act of voluntary allegiance to it... An act of total faith."

IN AN OBVIOUS reply to Gromyko, Vandenberg said there are two reasons why the United Nations cannot now handle the Greek-Turkish problem:

1. The UN "is not and was never intended to be a relief organization."

2. It has "no sustaining military force." This, he said, is because the Soviet representatives "thus far have declined to permit these plans to materialize."

Charge Uruguay Inciting Rebels

ASUNCION, Paraguay, April 8 (AP)—Enrique Volta Gaona, director of the loyalist Colorado party, accused the Uruguayan government last night of inciting rebel forces in Paraguay with broadcasts from Uruguay urging the insurgents to "use bombs and knives, to destroy and sabotage."

VOLTA GAONA, head of President Higinio Morinigo's labor movement, lauded recent attempts to overthrow the government of Uruguay which he said were motivated by a desire to "emancipate Uruguay from the yoke of Soviet imperialism." He added that "the Uruguayan people should free themselves from the oppression of elements paid by Moscow."

Meanwhile curfew regulations were relaxed in Asuncion. Pedestrians were permitted to remain on the streets until midnight instead of 11 p.m. as previously ordered.

Supporters Rally Behind de Gaulle

PARIS, April 8—(Reuters)—First moves by supporters of Gen. Charles de Gaulle to form a new political grouping were made in Strasbourg today when representatives of district "patriotic" groups formed an organization committee.

In a speech at Strasbourg yesterday de Gaulle called on his supporters to rally to a new France. THIS COMMITTEE will call a "rally of the French people" for that department. The various groups met today with Jacques de Soustelle, former minister of colonies under de Gaulle.

Similar committees are expected to be formed in other departments of France in the coming weeks.

Truman Planning Visit to Ottawa

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
WASHINGTON, April 8—(CP)—President Truman is planning for a visit to Ottawa, which will be in sharp contrast to his last trip to Canada. He will be the second United States president to visit Canada's capital while in office and no doubt will receive a welcome comparable to that given the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt when he spent a day in Ottawa in the late summer of 1943.

Finds Production Substantial

Lewis Orders Miners Back to Safe Pits

WASHINGTON, April 8—(AP)—John L. Lewis today expressed "gratification" that United States coal production yesterday was "substantial" and instructed miners to resume work as fast as each mine is certified as safe.

LEWIS, PRESIDENT of the United Mine Workers (AFL), made public a telegram he sent to each district president of the union. It said:

"This office expresses gratification that production yesterday of re-examined and re-certified mines and strip hits was substantial."

"I confirm the policy of immediate resumption of production at each mine as fast as it is certified by federal mine inspectors as being in conformity with federal safety code."

YESTERDAY'S production was estimated by the coal mines administration at about 32 per cent of a normal day's output.

Government officials were saying nothing on the situation. The CMA said its reports last night showed 100,000 miners, including 54,000 members of Lewis' UMW, digging coal in 500 pits on the first day of the scheduled safety stoppage after the union's six-day mourning period for victims of the Centralia, Ill., blast. The UMW has 400,000 soft coal miners.

Nine Persons Die In Bus Disaster

SEATTLE, April 8—(AP)—Nine persons lost their lives last night when a heavy north coast line bus collided with an oil truck and then plunged into the Duwamish river, running alongside the Pacific highway.

Twelve other passengers and the bus driver, Melvin D. Long, 22, of Olympia, Wash., survived, some with severe but none with critical injuries.

HEROIC RESCUE work by eyewitnesses and passing motorists, who waded into the river and climbed atop the two-thirds submerged bus, prevented a heavier death toll.

The first rescuers at the scene backed holes into the roof to pull to safety frightened passengers who were fighting for aid inside the wreckage.

The bus driver escaped by kicking out the windshield, while a number of men got out without assistance and clung to driftwood in the river until rescued.

Greeks Withdraw From Two Towns

ATHENS, April 8 (AP)—The Liberal newspaper Vima reported today that Greek government forces, for "strategic reasons," had evacuated the towns of Ayvherinos and Pentaflos, situated southwest of Kastoria near the Albanian frontier.

THE PAPER DID not further explain the withdrawal, but declared that terrified residents of the two villages had fled to the nearest towns to seek refuge from guerrilla bands.

Other Athens papers reported that government troops, carrying out mopping up operations in the region northwest of Salonika, had slain 100 guerrillas and captured 50.

Due to Losses

Vets' Land Act Shake-Up Hinted

By CHESTER BLOOM

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, April 8—Very definite reports are in circulation here that a shake-up is planned in the veterans' land act department as the result of some half a million dollars of losses in construction of veterans' homes.

ACCORDING to these reports, the shake-up may extend all the way up from the engineering and inspection branches to the directorate now held by Gordon Murchison. Since Mr. Murchison holds the status of a deputy minister, the final decision and announcement of any transfers must come from the ministerial level. Hon. Ian Mackenzie, the minister of veterans' affairs, is in Vancouver at present.

It is generally agreed that much of the reconstruction and repair work that is now being carried out on hastily built veterans' houses was due to use of green lumber and inadequately trained labor. However, the finance department is concerned over the fact that an unexpected half million dollars has to be budgeted for this year. Also, the uproar raised by the opposition has put the government in the position of having to take some action. Mr. Murchison and some of his top officials, therefore, may have to "take the rap."

U.S. Radio Writers May Stage Strike

NEW YORK, April 8—(AP)—Formal notice of a United States-wide strike by the radio writers guild will be served on the networks and other stations tomorrow, it was announced today by Roy Langham, national executive secretary of the guild. The strike will not become effective until 30 days after notice.

THE NEW YORK and Hollywood sections of the guild voted last night to strike and the Chicago section voted tonight. However, Langham said that the vote of the New York and Hollywood sections was 30 to 1 in favor of a strike, which guarantees a majority.

The strike will include approximately 1,700 free-lance writers who turn out scripts for many leading network programs.

Under Pressure From Western Allies

Russia Agrees to Conference Discussion of German Frontiers

By John M. Hightower

MOSCOW, April 8—(AP)—Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia tonight agreed under western pressure to halt the long discussions of Big Four disagreements on current German problems and to turn to other matters—the next being the question of German frontiers.

THE MINISTERS will take up the frontier question tomorrow. In a conciliatory move, Molotov agreed to demands by State Secretary Bevin of Britain and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France to drop from the plans for a German provisional government the Soviet proposal that security police powers be vested in a central government.

Bevin led the fight on this. He declared that "the tendency toward creation of a police state would be dangerous."

Earlier, American sources had said that unless the Americans ceased what the Americans called obstructionist tactics the whole conference could soon end.

THESE INFORMANTS said a showdown was taking shape within the four-power council between Foreign Minister Molotov and the ministers of the western powers. American and British sources declared Molotov was using council meetings to pump Soviet propaganda into Germany, and that his speeches on the future German government were prompted more by a desire to place Russian views before the Germans than in hope of getting an agreement.

MOSCOW, April 8—(BUP)—The Big Four deputies completed their work on the Austrian treaty today, but Gen. Mark W. Clark said the outlook for final conference agreement on it was "none too good." Clark said after the morning meeting of the deputies that the Russians had not yielded an inch on any Austrian issue discussed since the Moscow conference opened March 10.

Monster Back In Loch Ness, Scots Declare

INVERNESS, Scotland, April 8—(AP)—Despite the shortage of Scotch whisky, some people are reporting seeing the Loch Ness monster again. (North Scotland's 1947 tourist season is just starting).

To hear them tell it, the thing swooshes through the long, narrow lake as fearfully as ever.

So much for the wartime claim of Mussolini's propaganda staff that a direct bomb hit had destroyed the Loch Ness monster again. (North Scotland's 1947 tourist season is just starting).

Make New Effort To Save Gruner

LONDON, April 8—(Reuters)—Israel Rokach, mayor of Tel Aviv, Palestine, today made another attempt to save the life of 34-year-old convicted Jewish Terrorist Dov Bela Gruner sentenced to death for his part in an attack last January on a police station in Jerusalem.

TODAY LONDON solicitors received instructions from Rokach to file a petition with the Privy Council. The high court of Palestine has dismissed Rokach's application to have the death sentence on Gruner set aside.

The Privy Council has already rejected an application on Gruner's behalf by his uncle, Frank Gruner, of New York.

Link Evelyn Dick With Escape Try

HAMILTON, April 8—(CP)—Mrs. Evelyn Dick, under sentence of life imprisonment for the manslaughter of her illegitimate son, today was accused of complicity in an attempt of three women to break out of Barton Street jail last week.

"IT WASN'T just the three of us—Evelyn Dick was in on it too," said blond, 19-year-old Florence Arnott, one of the three accused of attempting to break jail and committing an assault on the jail matron. Miss Arnott testified in her own defence in court.

"I thought I heard Evelyn Dick's boy friend mentioned for help in a break—he would be waiting outside," said one witness, Olive Stewart who testified at the court appearance of Miss Arnott, Evelyn Hamilton and Helen Rea.

MISS ARNOTT said: "Our plans were made but nothing came of it. It was supposed to be Evelyn Dick's job to get the keys."

CAN YOU POISE ON COFFEE?

SOME folks just haven't any nerves. Maybe you're one of them. Maybe you can drink tea or coffee all day every day—and still be so calm and collected... with all the poise of a fashion model.

But there are tea and coffee drinkers who are about as unpredictable as a Mexican jumping bean. They're the kind of people who snap at traffic cops... fuss with their hair and jewelry... or tear their handkerchiefs to shreds.

If you're that kind of person, you should try to poise on Postum, instead. It's a feat you'll enjoy. For Postum has such a grand flavor—not

Vermilion Honors Coach Art Wiebe

VERMILION.—Playing Coach Art Wiebe, former defence star of the Chicago Black Hawks, and his players of the Vermilion Tigers hockey club, their wives and friends and the officials of the club, enjoyed a gay social evening as an end to the hockey season.

The gala affair, attended by 86 people, was held in the armories. During the course of the evening Art Wiebe was presented with an autograph record player. Vermilion people feel that Mr. Wiebe is a great acquisition to the town. Besides being playing manager of Vermilion's senior team, he has spent the past season coaching and encouraging pee-wee hockey. It is a source of considerable satisfaction that he refused to leave Vermilion despite attractive offers from two cities in the Western Canada league.

Shortly after the close of the season the players were guests of the Vermilion board of trade at a luncheon attended by 60 business men of the town. Albert M. West was chairman of the meeting and paid considerable tribute to the hockey players for providing this

"Conductor," said the grim-faced woman as she forced her way on to the front of the crowded bus, "didn't I tell you I wanted to get off at 3rd street?"

"Yes, but—" began the conductor. "Don't make excuses!" snapped the lady. "I know all about your bus being crowded and that you can't be expected to remember where each single person wants to get off."

"But—" "Don't argue! You may be sure that I shall report you for your impudence."

With much dignity she alighted. Then, as the bus started again, the conductor touched his cap and called to her.

"Excuse me, madam, but 3rd street is a half a mile farther on."

Wants Vermilion Junior Chamber

VERMILION.—Interested in promoting the organization of more junior chambers of commerce in northern and central Alberta, Joe St. McKenney, president of the Vermilion Junior Chamber of Commerce, addressed the Vermilion board of trade at its regular luncheon meeting.

He claimed the junior chamber was a reserve force and that wherever there was a senior board of trade there should be a junior body. He named many projects worked on by junior boards usually not handled by senior organizations, and emphasized that the closest cooperation is maintained between the two bodies.

The formation of a junior board is under consideration in Vermilion. President George Maxwell of the Vermilion board acted as chairman of the meeting.

Other notable visitors present included Judge E. C. B. Kerr recently appointed to the district court bench and presiding at the sittings in Vermilion for the first time. Judge Kerr was introduced by Mayor Morrison and addressed the gathering briefly.

Frederick Newcombe, Edmonton, supervisor of district agricultural division, addressed the meeting. He was introduced by E. C. Miller superintendent of the Vermilion school division.

Martin Albers, president of the students' union of the Vermilion school of agriculture for the past year, and Robert Shopland, newly elected for the year commencing next fall, were introduced by Principal N. N. Bely. Mr. Shopland expressed on behalf of the students their appreciation of the many generous prizes donated by the businessmen of the town to the students, and to the board of trade for their annual scholarship.

Charlie Brinton of Vegreville, here to help judge the livestock at the little royal, was another welcome visitor and extended greetings from the Vegreville board of trade.

India plans an annual production of 4,000,000 tons of rice and wheat.

Wants Vermilion Junior Chamber

VERMILION.—Interested in promoting the organization of more junior chambers of commerce in northern and central Alberta, Joe St. McKenney, president of the Vermilion Junior Chamber of Commerce, addressed the Vermilion board of trade at its regular luncheon meeting.

He claimed the junior chamber was a reserve force and that wherever there was a senior board of trade there should be a junior body. He named many projects worked on by junior boards usually not handled by senior organizations, and emphasized that the closest cooperation is maintained between the two bodies.

The formation of a junior board is under consideration in Vermilion. President George Maxwell of the Vermilion board acted as chairman of the meeting.

Other notable visitors present included Judge E. C. B. Kerr recently appointed to the district court bench and presiding at the sittings in Vermilion for the first time. Judge Kerr was introduced by Mayor Morrison and addressed the gathering briefly.

Frederick Newcombe, Edmonton, supervisor of district agricultural division, addressed the meeting. He was introduced by E. C. Miller superintendent of the Vermilion school division.

Martin Albers, president of the students' union of the Vermilion school of agriculture for the past year, and Robert Shopland, newly elected for the year commencing next fall, were introduced by Principal N. N. Bely. Mr. Shopland expressed on behalf of the students their appreciation of the many generous prizes donated by the businessmen of the town to the students, and to the board of trade for their annual scholarship.

Charlie Brinton of Vegreville, here to help judge the livestock at the little royal, was another welcome visitor and extended greetings from the Vegreville board of trade.

India plans an annual production of 4,000,000 tons of rice and wheat.

Charges "Political Blackmail"

Drew Charges Ottawa Seeks Absolute Power

TORONTO, April 8 —(CP)—Premier Drew of Ontario said last night: "The statement on behalf of the Dominion government that we are blocking the general welfare of the people of Canada by our refusal to submit to their terms is nothing but political blackmail."

IN A SPEECH on Dominion-provincial relations broadcasting over an Ontario network of the CBC, Premier Drew added:

"The issue before you is not a political issue. The Liberal government of Nova Scotia, the Union Nationale of Quebec and the Conservative government of Ontario have all taken the same position. They are making a stand for constitutional democracy against those who believe in absolutism, masquerading under the cloak of liberalism or any other name."

"The province of Ontario is not for sale. Neither its established rights, customs nor educational system are on the auction block. We will submit to no political blackmail. We will never give up our great birthright for a mess of financial pottage. In this no mere question of provincial rights is involved. We are fighting the federal system against the first carefully planned attack since 1867."

PREMIER DREW opened his 15-minute speech with the declaration that the Ontario government never at any time refused to enter into a new tax agreement with the Dominion government. Neither had it refused to abandon the great fields of personal income and corporation tax.

Dowry for Princess

ATHENS, April 8. — (AP) — A parliamentary committee yesterday approved a bill to authorize the government to allocate £10,000 ($40,000) as a national dowry for Princess Catherine, who is to be married April 21 to British Major Richard C. A. Brandram. The princess is a sister of King Paul I.

Plans Revolution Overthrow British

RANGOON, April 8 —(Reuters)—Thakin Ba Sein declared here Monday he was organizing "a revolutionary army of 100,000 men to fight British Imperialists and their hirelings." He branded the anti-fascist Peoples Freedom League which is the basis of the Burmese interim government, "a British hireling and enemies of the people." Ba Sein recently resigned from the government to form the Dobama party of "Burmans for the Burmans." He returned to Rangoon Sunday after touring country districts in his avowed campaign to wreck Wednesday's elections for a new constituent assembly.

Quick Thinking Foils Bandits

HAMILTON, April 8 (CP)—A quick-thinking taxi-driver paused to dump most of his cash at his company's office when carrying two "shady characters" Saturday night, and then helped police capture them after they committed the hold-up he foresaw.

ROY MILNE, 25, allegedly picked up Leslie Maxwell, 19, and Nelson Wheeler, 27, both of Hamilton and was ordered to drive to the city's eastern limits. He passed by the company office, told dispatcher Harvey Greise of his suspicions and asked him to take $25 of his change temporarily.

Retaining only $4, Milne resumed the trip. Sure enough, at the city limits he was held up and after cheerfully turning over the $4 he made a bee-line for the nearest police station.

Ten minutes later the men were captured and charged with armed robbery.

"Milk for Britain" Bottles Out Again

GLACE BAY, N.S., April 8 (CP)—Those store-counter milk bottles with the wartime "Milk for Britain" slogan are on duty again collecting pennies for "Milk for Glace Bay babies" as townspeople of the strike-bound colliery areas worry about the health of children.

The Kinsmen Club put the bottles back into peacetime service after Dr. T. J. Khatter, town medical officer, expressed fears of the effects malnutrition would have upon children whose miner fathers have been payless since the coal strike started seven weeks ago.

Says Rent Boost Should Be 40%

TORONTO, April 8 (CP)—The federal order permitting a 10 per cent increase in rentals was described as "inadequate" last night by one Toronto real estate man, H. L. Rogers. He declared that residential rents would have to rise 40 per cent over present levels before it would be worthwhile building houses to rent.

Madagascar Calm

PARIS, April 8. — (Reuters)—Rebels in Madagascar, French island colony off East Africa where revolt broke out last week, derailed a freight train and injured five railway workers, reports from French sources reaching here said today. The general situation in the island was described as calm.

Adopted Son of Rector

Youth Admits Murder Of Church Official

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 8 —(AP)—Sixteen-year-old Stuart Allen calmly signed a statement, police said, that he slew the elderly sexton of his father's church because he "felt an urge to kill someone," but the boy expressed great shock last night at learning that he was an adopted child, a fact he said he had not known "until 15 minutes ago."

THE SHOCK, he told newspapermen in his cell after police questioning, was greater than that of finding himself faced with promise of arraignment on a first degree murder charge.

Late last night County Prosecutor O. R. Newcomer filed a first degree murder charge against young Allen.

While he talked the boy's restless fingers tapped on the table top. He said he never had been in trouble before.

"Well," he laughed, "I've shipped classes occasionally." POLICE CHIEF J. Croy Keller said the youth, Stuart Allen, an honor roll student in high school, and foster son of Episcopal Rector Rev. James S. Allen, had signed a statement in which he said he bludgeoned John Frank, 55-year-old sexton on the head with a hammer and then mutilated his body with an electric drill in the basement of his father's church last April Fool's Day.

Ont. Flood

farm boy of nearby Dover township, was the first flood victim in the immediate area, the sixth in all Ontario. Many of the streams had produced damage and devastation costing perhaps millions of dollars in the last few days.

JUBENVILLE was drowned when the tractor he was driving struck a tree trunk on a township road and overturned. In Chatham many persons worked all night taking precautions against property damage. In downtown stores staffs moved stocks to upper floors, and where there was only one floor raised stocks two or three feet above street level. Basements of stores on King Street, the city's main thoroughfare, had as much as three feet of water late last night.

Chatham was expecting the worst at a time when the flood menace had eased everywhere else in western and southern Ontario. The Sydenham river running north of here, after flooding the streets of Dresden, was subsiding. THE GRAND river was subsiding at Brantford and the Avon river had dropped sharply at Stratford.

Phone Strike

Company—the world's largest corporate enterprise.

IF A. T. & T. executives decide the union's power is all that its more than 300,000 members claim, then government conciliators look for the company to alter its position on some disputed points. If not, the negotiation probably will settle back for a long fight.

Similarly, should the NFW learn that its hold on the telephone workers inside and outside of affiliated unions is weaker than its officers had estimated, the government looks for some concessions from the federation. If its position is as strong as it hopes, the union will hole in for a last-ditch battle.

THAT IS WHAT President Joseph A. Byrne said last night the union would do.

After a late evening conference with conciliation Director Edgar L. Warren and his top assistants, Byrne said no settlement proposal had been advanced.

A Readjustment Measure

The new rent control order does not apply to any house or apartment completed since Jan. 1st, 1944.

If a house or a self-contained apartment was completed before that date, the landlord may raise the rent 10 per cent. But only if he offers the tenant a two-year lease, to run from the expiry of the present lease if any.

The tenant will have 30 days in which to accept or refuse the offer, after the expiry of any present lease. If he accepts, the new lease will bind the landlord, but the tenant will be free to move out at any time on giving 30 days' notice.

If a landlord does not choose to offer such a lease, the tenant may stay in the premises, after his present lease expires, on a month-to-month basis, with no increase in rent and under protection against eviction. If a tenant is operating a rooming-house the landlord must apply to the rentals appraiser before offering the two-year lease. If he fails to do so the situation will remain as it is.

This seems to be the substance of the new order. It is a long way from the general 10 per cent increase that was predicted by prophetic correspondents at Ottawa. Its application is limited to houses and apartments which were completed by the end of 1943, and to these only if a two-year lease is offered to the present occupant.

Obviously the intent is to put the owners of older houses and apartments on a somewhat nearer footing to that of those who have built during the last three years. Rentals of these older premises have been pegged at the level of January, 1942, while rentals of new quarters have been set in the light of higher construction costs. This may be supposed to be the reason for the levelling-up.

Deadlocks Do Not Help

The industrial history of the United States over the past year is largely a record of tie-ups. When the coal mines were not out of production steel plants were shut down, or shipping was paralyzed, or railways were crippled, or automobile factories were idle, or telephones were dead, or farmers were staging what amounted to a non-delivery strike.

One interruption has followed another, in basic industries and in major secondary industries, in a procession which might be supposed to disclose a conspiracy to block production and keep the country in turbulence. Without suggesting that such a conspiracy exists the effect has been the same. Productive capacity has been kept in low gear. Prices have spiralled upward. Goods have continued scarce. The national economy has been hampered. The standard of living has been held down. Dread has discouraged initiative. People generally are living no better than they were a year ago—in the wealthiest, most resourceful and most productive country on the globe.

Canada has been adversely affected by jolts and jars transmitted to its industrial system. It will be again affected adversely by the new stoppage of coal production and the suspension of telephone service beyond its border. How seriously will depend on how long these new shut-downs continue. But if Canadians have the capacity to understand what they see, they can turn this record of interruptions to good account. It is a striking demonstration of how not to speed recovery from war conditions, step up long-delayed production, and make the times better for everyone. The result has been precisely, and emphatically, contrary to these purposes. It has been a disappointing year for our neighbors, a year of slowed progress and frustrated hopes.

The results in Canada have been the same to the extent that we, too, deadlocked industry and stopped the wheels of progress. This will be the same to the extent that we do this in future. If we want to speed recovery and enjoy better living conditions, we will have to go about it the other way, avoid tie-ups and keep on turning out goods in ever growing volume.

Depressing Our Dollar

Banks at Vancouver have been ordered to restore some of the wartime controls on the sale of United States money. Now any person there who wants to exchange Canadian dollars for American currency will have to fill out an application stating why he wants to do so.

This will be an inconvenience to people who want small amounts of United States money, to pay the expenses of a trip across the border, and such purposes. Hitherto they could walk into a bank and get a hundred dollars or less without any formality.

They will have to blame speculators for the nuisance. These have been buying American dollars in expectation that Canadian dollars would drop to a ten per cent discount—and thus doing what they could to drive them down to that figure. Likely enough big gamblers have been hiring small ones to pick up American dollars over the counter for them.

This kind of speculation amounts to financial treason in the present situation. With all our exports, it is hard to keep Canadian money at or near par with United States money. When the Canadian dollar is sold short this difficulty is increased, and every person who imports goods or pays a debt in the neighboring country is wronged.

Hereafter there will be a record of all exchange transactions, and the racketeers will have to take chances on getting caught and punished.

600 Guarantees of Peace

The United States is to take over 600 islands, scattered through an area of 800,000 square miles of the Pacific ocean. These were formerly under mandate to Japan. The decision, unanimous in the Security Council, has no time limit or other qualification. The islands are to become complete and permanent possessions of the new custodian, not simply wards.

Canada, Australia, New Zealand, every democratic country that fronts on the Pacific, and every country in that theatre which is peace-minded, will welcome this permanent extension of United States authority and responsibility. No other disposition of the islands could equally guarantee stability and order in that enormous area.

The United States has the will and the power to maintain peace in the Pacific. No other power has both, if either. And that is a region where might is needed on the side of right.

Dollars will follow the flag. Strategy will not be the only consideration of the new proprietor of these islands. American capital will flow to them. Their resources will be developed. Their people will attain a better standard of living. Trade will expand. The world will be enriched by larger supplies of tropical products.

The more our neighbors invest in their newly acquired insular territory, the stronger the assurance that the Pacific area will be what its name implies.

Forty years ago Mr. W. T. Stead, famous but greatly misunderstood English journalist, said if the nations would spend a dollar for peace for every thousand they spend on war reparations something would be accomplished. There would even be an outcry from the taxpayers about spending all this good money when no one was expecting a war.

The Loyalty Test

BY DOROTHY THOMPSON

It has become an unfortunate habit of our leaders to discover, suddenly, a crisis and rush through an executive order which may contribute to the evils it seeks to avert.

The president's loyalty test order springs from a crisis of democracy which has existed ever since Fascism demonstrated to strategists of the radical right and left the technique of overthrowing libertarian states with the instrument of civil liberties.

The rule-of-thumb way to meet such a problem, sparing its advocates brain exercise or soul searching, is to restrict civil liberties, establish probe agencies, and ban—by decree—specific organizations. The average opponent of this plan counters by proclaiming that constitutional liberties can take care of themselves. The millions in penal camps throughout the world are silent warnings against the latter type of reasoning.

OBVIOUSLY, since what is involved is a threat to the constitutional rights of citizens, the way to protect them is to strengthen those liberties by more effective implementations than now exist. The starting point is recognition that there are no absolute freedoms, but that every freedom carries with it an attendant responsibility. Constitutional freedoms are automatically abrogated by those who would use them to destroy the freedoms of others. Legal means should be established through which American citizens, as groups or individuals, can defend their constitutional rights by preventive action before those rights are lost.

The German-American Bund was an organization conducting a campaign against one category of American citizens. The example of the state whose concepts they applauded was evidence that, with sufficient power, they would franchise and otherwise abuse that category of citizens. Now, it is not beyond the capacities of lawmakers to create a statute under which such threatened citizens could take their case before a jury and obtain an order compelling the organization and its members to cease and desist, with heavy punishments if they were later found in contempt of court.

THERE is prima facie evidence that the aim of the Communist party, upon achieving sufficient power, is to establish a dictatorship claiming to act on behalf of a certain class. It would liquidate other classes, their members, and "class enemies"—including all their previous influential opponents. X, an industrialist; Y, an anti-communist journalist; Z, a labor leader fighting Communist infiltration in his union, know that if Communism should succeed, more would happen than the socialization of industry. Not only would all civil liberties be restricted, but X, Y, and Z stand to lose even the status accorded others, and be condemned to penal camps or the lampost. Is it not preposterous that X, Y, and Z cannot find a statute under which to defend themselves against their would-be assassins?

No statute should be directed as a ban against a specific organization. Today's threat is not always yesterday's or tomorrow's. A statute should also be designed not to prejudice movements on the ground that they advocate even radical social change. The Constitution does not guarantee any particular social-economic system in America.

WHAT IT DOES guarantee, through all changes, is the equal protection of each citizen against encroachments upon his established freedoms and his equal right to share the protections of the state with all. Any movement, of whatever nature, that includes in its aims the abolition or unequal restriction of those rights, is a menace not only to the state but also to the people. Every American ought to be legally armed to protect his constitutional rights against conspiracies to destroy them.

Such a statute and means of protection would strengthen, not weaken, civil liberties. There would be nothing arbitrary or discriminatory about such a statute, except against those who logically and morally choose to put themselves beyond its protection.

Low Wage Class Gets Blow

By HAROLD L. WEIR

IT IS REPORTED that government control on domestic rentals will be lifted to the extent of permitting a ten per cent increase, with the tenant under an obligation to sign a two-year lease or be subject to notice of eviction by the landlord.

This means that the housing situation, so far as the tenant class is concerned, will be aggravated just ten per cent. In the case of the low-salaried class, the situation, already intolerable, will become just that much more desperate.

There is a vague argument somewhere that this increase of profits to landlords will stimulate the building of home units. In other words, it is hinted that landlords, elated with this ten per cent addition to their revenue, will immediately rush out and build new premises for rental purposes. It is a ridiculous notion. It is ridiculous because the cost of home building has increased so drastically that home units cannot possibly be built to rent at prices that 80 per cent of the Canadian people can afford to pay.

THE COST of building a six-room frame house of 23.76 cubic feet was $3,836 in 1913. Of this sum, $1,146 was expended in labor, $1,973 in materials and $717 in overhead, that is, in profits, taxes, insurance, etc.

By 1920, the cost of building this same house had risen to $7,678 which represented, over 1913, a 48 per cent increase in labor, 139 per cent in materials and 77 per cent in overhead.

The cost decreased a little in 1922, rose to $7,488 in 1924, declined to $4,691 in 1933 and went up again to $5,894 in 1939.

This same house costs to build today no less than $10,156—an increase over 1939 of 110 per cent in labor, 50 per cent in materials and 74 per cent in overhead.

Students of the fluctuations in prices say the trend is still upward, that the cost of this house will be $11,500 next year and will decline steadily until it may be as low as $7,675 in 1955.

All this, of course, adds up to an exceedingly sweet prospect for the low-salaried man who cannot possibly afford, without starving his family, to pay more than $25 or $30 a month in rentals or purchase instalments. And this class of man makes up some 80 per cent of Canada's population.

IT IS shoutfully obvious that Canada's housing shortage, the crying need of modern low-priced homes for families that make less than $250 per month will never be alleviated by playing tricks with rental control in the absurd notion that a little extra profit for landlords will start a building boom.

Even 100 per cent increase in rentals would not produce homes, under present circumstances, that 80 per cent of Canada's household heads could afford to rent or buy.

All the rent increase will accomplish is to make the lot of these people just that much heavier to bear.

Surely it is unmistakably apparent by this time that the building of homes must be stimulated in some other way and that the only measure that will stimulate the building of enough modern low-priced homes is government subsidization.

NOW THAT the war is over, government subsidies have fallen into some unpopularity. And, as a general principle, it can be said that subsidies and controls should be eliminated as early as possible.

But subsidies and controls are necessary in times of emergency.

Ever Living Words

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

Henry Wallace made a fine speech recently which has attracted too little attention.

It was the kind of speech to which most great leaders would say "That's right."

Wallace pointed out that the common people are confused today because "experts" persist in using language which hardly anybody understands. His remedy was—read the Bible!

THE BIBLE puts the modern newspaper to shame for brevity.

The story of the birth of Jesus is told in less than 300 words.

The resurrection story, which the Christian world celebrates with such joy every Easter, takes less space in John's version than is given to a single comic strip in any daily newspaper.

Those who told the Bible stories did so in words that any child can understand, even though the English is old-fashioned.

"Then Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping. And as she wept she stooped down and looked into the sepulchre and seeth two angels sitting. And they say to her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid Him."

WE HAVE SEEN in our own time how words are mighty forces—stronger than atom bombs. Great words have power to bridge the deepest gulfs of political or religious differences.

The Russian revolutionaries of 1917, for instance, were fierce in their determination to wipe-out the Czarist church of which the foul Rasputin had become the symbol. Yet, when they wanted words to paint on Moscow walls to teach every citizen what ideals they were trying to achieve, this was what they picked:

"From every man according to his ability. To every man according to his need."

"If a man will not work, neither shall he eat."

Both of these are direct quotations from the New Testament.

I notice, too, that in Nehru's fine book, "The Discovery of India," he begins by recording his own sharing of the general Hindu belief in rebirth—that man lives again and again and again—but he ends with these words of Lenin's:

"Man's dearest possession is life, and since it is given to him to live but once, he must so live as not to be seared with the shame of a cowardly and trivial past; so live as not to be tortured for years without purpose; so live that dying he can say: 'All my life and my strength were given to the first cause in the world—the liberation of mankind!'"

SHAKESPEARE made his characters say things which are not altogether true. Thus Anthony, for his own ends, says over Caesar's corpse: "The evil that men do lives after them—the good is interred with their bones."

It seems to me that there is more and more evidence to show that, while both evil and good may live awhile, the good outlasts the evil.

Slowly, painfully, after terrible punishment, the human family learns the hard way what Jesus taught.

Only dimly do we now begin to see that such words are not just noble sounds, but the most practical guides for individual, national and international action.

precept and example they point the middle way to peace between Communism and Capitalism. If these forces clash they may clash right over our heads here.

We need the cost of production, a fair price and a stable price. This the government has set. Then why do they not hold the prices of the things we buy into line also? We want to feed Britain. But while we are feeding Britain we don't want our fellow Canadians to exploit us.

The Bulletin's Readers Say:

PEACETIME CONTROLS

Editor, Bulletin—The question of controls is put up to us as an issue between "control" and "freedom." This is not a true picture. The issue is really who is to control and for what purpose.

Some of us want a government which will maintain, even in peacetime, such controls as are necessary to the general welfare. The aim of peacetime controls would be better to supply the needs of all citizens for food, clothing and shelter.

The aim of the exploiter, may not be for freedom at all, but rather for control by the few to exploit the needs of the many.

There is a little island off the coast of Europe, whose people have been a bulwark for world freedom for centuries. Today by

Control or Uncontrol

BY HARPER PROWSE, MLA

In spite of the protests which have been raised about the removal of government controls on the prices of a wide range of commodities I doubt whether there will be any appreciable rise in prices.

In dropping the controls the government is merely following a line of action which they announced when controls were first put on during the war years.

There are two reasons why the government has lifted controls. The first of these is that in so far as many of the items are concerned the supply situation has improved to the point where there are enough of these products being produced to satisfy the demands of those who want them. In this case there will be no rise in prices and probably prices will decrease slightly.

Competition for the market will lead to price reductions which were being delayed because sellers tended to consider the maximum price the minimum as well.

AN EXAMPLE of this is the automobile market. Ford's reduced their prices to below the ceiling. Under these circumstances competitors of Ford are going to have to follow suit; therefore, as automobiles will be selling below the ceiling there is no sense keeping the ceiling price in effect because it is no longer protecting the public.

On the other hand, there are certain articles which are certainly going to go up. These will be, generally speaking, those articles which we import from the United States. While we could keep the ceiling on, the effect would be to stop all imports of these commodities. American manufacturers are not going to export goods for sale in Canada at prices below what they can get for them in the United States.

These are factors we should think over rather carefully before we lend our voices to the protests against the government's action in this regard—many of which come from people who don't believe in free enterprise and want to impose some other system on us.

The business of getting ahead in the world calls for continuous adjustment to new methods... streamlined planning to meet the head winds of competition... the use of every modern scientific equipment that speeds up the production of better goods and services at lower costs.

Credit makes improved methods available... whether they be machinery, plant extensions or simply cash in hand for the furtherance of any other aspect of constructive planning. For more than 90 years, The Bank of Toronto has supplied the money—the credit needed by Canadians whose progressive aims and purposes could only thus be achieved.

Low-Down On Atom Busters
Nuclear Physics in Nutshell

BALTIMORE, April 7.—(AP)—Dr. Robert Dudley Fowler, atomic research expert at Johns Hopkins University, gives this "layman's explanation" of what nuclear physicists are doing when they use a cyclotron in their efforts to find out what is in the atom: "It is a dark night and you are in a field and have an unlimited supply of tennis balls. 'Somewhere in that field you know there is a barn with an animal in it. Without moving from your position, you have to determine what type of animal is in the barn. 'There is a small opening in the barn. Through it, you try to hit the animal with a tennis ball. After throwing numerous tennis balls in various directions, you will finally hit the barn. Now at least you know you are aiming in the right direction. 'After throwing a few more million tennis balls you will finally get some through the hole in the barn. Some of the balls will hit the animal and bounce to the floor. Finally, one of them will bounce off the animal, back out through the hole, and return to you. 'By smelling the tennis ball, you try to guess what kind of animal it is. 'Of course," the doctor amplified, "we are throwing energy particles at atoms and not tennis balls at a barn. If we keep this up a hundred years we might learn how to turn energy into matter. Anything is possible. Mars is only one-tenth as heavy as the earth."

THE TALKING MACHINE HAS MANY USES
Since the invention of the talking machine, it has been gradually developed and greatly improved, as described in an earlier article. Today it has many uses.

It is used to record music, poetry, stories, and also important speeches and happenings. In the vaults of the Paris Grand Opera House, and elsewhere, have been placed collections of records made by great musicians. They can be taken out 50 or 100 years from now and listeners will be able to hear music of the past. Distinguished men and women of various countries have spoken for the talking machine, and their voices have been preserved for future generations. The voices of birds and animals have been recorded. So have the sounds of battle.

Large sums of money have been paid to artists for their recordings. Enrico Caruso's royalties were the first to reach very large sums. Nowadays it is not at all uncommon for a successful artist to receive as much as $100,000 a year in earnings from records.

Making a record is both interesting and difficult. Suppose it is to be a song with orchestral accompaniment. In the recording auditorium, the singer first rehearses with the orchestra, perhaps several times. Perhaps some of the instruments in the orchestra need to be placed nearer the microphone or farther away to obtain the proper balance. Then a section of the song, with orchestral accompaniment, is given a first trial and registered.

If all goes well, the recording mechanism is made ready, the signal is given and the conductor brings down his baton. The singer and the orchestra do their best, for even the slightest fault will be apparent in the record, and there is no way to correct it except by making another record.

When the typist is ready to write letters, she may use the same machine. She pushes a little lever, puts two tiny tubes in her ears, and the machine gives back to her what has been said. She can make the machine go as fast or as slowly as she wishes, and can make it repeat any part as often as necessary. In large offices, different machines are used for dictation and for reproducing.

A recent and growing use of the talking machine is the recording of books and plays for the blind. Frequently a new book is recorded by its own author, so that the blind may hear the voice of the man to whose story or ideas they are listening.

So many devices have been invented to improve the performance of the talking machine that you might think very little remains to be done. However, inventors promise wonderful improvements in the future.

Minister Leaves On Inspection Trip

Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, left Edmonton Monday afternoon for an inspection trip of roads and road work in the south of the province.

He intended to look over the Calgary-Edmonton highway on Monday afternoon. Inspection of the Calgary-Banff road and the work now in progress on it will be made on Tuesday.

In the Lethbridge area to be visited by Mr. Fallow on Wednesday, there are many projects demanding his attention, including the road from Coumts to Lethbridge and three other pieces of road construction.

Orient Service Opening May 15

Northwest Air Lines have set May 15 as target for the opening of regular civilian air passenger and express service from Minneapolis to the Orient by way of Edmonton, with a thrice-weekly, two-way service operating at the start.

Don H. King, vice-president in charge of Far Eastern operations for the company, said here Monday.

MR. KING left Edmonton around noon Monday for Tokyo in a Douglas DC-3, two-engine plane that will be used for pilot qualification in the Orient. The plane carried 1,400 gallons of gasoline, 600 additional gallons than is usually carried on the Dakota type plane.

Edmonton will be a regular fuelling stop on the Oriental service, which will become a daily service later on.

THE NORTHWEST Air Lines official has spent two months in the Orient and a recent highlight in his experience was a 40-minute talk with General Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo.

"Gen. MacArthur is doing a great job in Japan and is very much interested in assisting the development of world air routes," Mr. King said.

Tokyo, Shanghai and Manila will be other cities on the route of the Northwest Air Lines service in the Far East.

Ex-Mountie Head Honored by U.S.

For his aid to American troops and to the U. S. army itself from June, 1942 to March, 1946, when he was in charge of "K" Division, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, William F. W. Hancock soon will be presented with the American Medal of Freedom with bronze palm.

THIS DECORATION is for civilian duties. As far as the American armed forces are concerned, Mr. Hancock was a civilian, and recognition of his services calls for this type of an award.

Presentation of the medal will be made by a P. H. Seddick, American vice-consul.

The citation accompanying the award follows:

Col. William F. W. Hancock, officer commanding, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, "K" Division, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, rendered meritorious services to the United States Army from June, 1942 to March, 1946. Col. Hancock materially aided the mission of the American troops, both engineers and air force, in Western Canada. His spirit of cooperation, his knowledge of terrain, weather conditions and difficulties greatly facilitated the successful completion of the Alaska Highway and the Canol project.

Canada Speeds Mapping Program

OTTAWA, April 8.—(CP)—Canada's 40-year-old mapping program is being speeded up to keep pace with the growing surge in development of her northland and other sections of this population, officials said today.

Since the early years of the century only about five per cent of the Canadian vastness has been covered with one-inch-to-the-mile scale maps and 30 per cent by the less helpful one-inch-to-four-mile maps.

Most of the country has been covered by aeronautical charts for flying purposes but these cannot be considered ordinary maps.

Army headquarters, one of the segments concerned with the enormous job ahead, said the responsibility rested largely with the defence department's army survey establishment and with the topographical survey of the mines department. But there are others involved, too.

Phones Revenue Reveals Increase

Revenue from the city telephone system for the period Jan. 1 to April 2 this year totalled $260,376.67 compared with $242,450.00 for the same period last year, an increase of $17,926.67, according to Robert Christie, superintendent of the system.

On April 2 this year there were 26,292 telephones in operation, a new record compared with 25,318 on the same day last year, an increase of 974.

Of the 1947 total 14,792 were in residences and 11,500 in places of business. There were 14,768 residential and 10,550 business telephones in use on April 2, 1946.

Bormann's Wife Reported Dead

FRANKFURT, April 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Karl Ebel, aunt of Martin Bormann, said in an interview Monday that the wife of the missing German deputy Fuehrer died of cancer in Italy in March, 1946.

Mrs. Bormann was said to have fled to Bruneck, Italy from Germany 11 months earlier with eight of her 10 children. Mrs. Ebel said she was convinced that Bormann, sentenced to death in absentia by the International Military Tribunal, had died in the battle of Berlin.

Hi-Y Clubs Plan $1,000 Relief Fund

CALGARY, April 8.—(CP)—Hi-Y clubs in the province will raise $1,000 toward helping Hi-Y boys in war devastated areas it was decided by delegates attending the 1947 Alberta regional conference of Hi-Y's here today.

Each of the 10 major clubs throughout the province agreed to try to raise $100 for the purpose.

THE MONEY is being raised in connection with a national appeal by the YMCA for a half million dollars of which Calgary's quota is $3,000. The funds will be used to help to rehabilitate survivors among more than 600 YMCA seafarers in war torn areas who suffered from over-work, malnutrition and imprisonment during the Second Great War.

SCORING RECORDS WERE BROKEN down into "average points per game" for the first time by American Hockey League this season and the figures show Bobby Case, ex-Edmonton Flyer, did consistently good work all year.

In finishing in second place in the regular scoring list with 88 points, Bob was just four below Phil Hergesheimer of Philadelphia and he averaged 1.42 per game for each of the 62 league fixtures in which he took part. Hergesheimer played in 64 games and his average was 1.44.

Les Douglas of Indianapolis had an average of 1.63 but he appeared in only 51 games and Cliff Simpson, also of Indianapolis operated at the rate of 1.44 points for each of his 54 games. Cleveland's Johnny Holata had an average of 1.35 for 64 games.

Forty Assists by Defenceman

OFFICIAL AMERICAN HOCKEY LEAGUE statistics prepared by Director Jim Hendy, a copy of which arrived in Monday's mail, also show that Ernie Dickens, Pittsburgh's star defenceman, set up 40 goals during the season for a new assist record for defencemen. Previous high was 36 made a year ago by Buffalo's Roger Legar, now with Montreal Canadiens.

Eddie Bush, Providence Reds, also came up with a new record, his 182 minutes establishing a new high for the penalty department and "bettering" the previous mark of 152 made in '38-39 by "Bomber" Doran of Syracuse Stars. Bush collected 46 minors, three majors, three 10-minute misconducts and two match misconducts in his 60 games.

Doug Lane was nicked for 18 minutes during his 25 games and Pete Sibbald must have been running fairly true to form for he spent 99 minutes in the penalty box in 52 games. Mac Colville drew 28 minutes in 45 and Joe Benoit only four minutes in 34.

Conny May Have Something!

ADVOCATES OF THE CONNY SMYTHE theory that the club which draws the most penalties provides the greatest punch, may find some ammunition to bolster their argument in the record of Hershey Bears, now engaged in a tough final series with Pittsburgh Hornets. The Bears who won their division and then ousted Cleveland Barons headed the penalty parade for both sections with 757 minutes.

But then on the other hand, Cleveland finished on top in the western division, and had the fewest penalties, their 466 minutes being the lowest of any of the 10 teams in the two sections.

Indianapolis had the most penalties in the western division (666) and Providence was second highest in the eastern and both wound up next to last (fourth) place. Pittsburgh players spent 561 (fifth highest) minutes in the penalty box.

Averages Should Include Games

REFERENCE HAS BEEN MADE in this column to the fact the official Western Canada Hockey League Scoring averages which are issued weekly throughout the season, could be improved and made more informative by the inclusion of the number of games played.

After all, goals and assists alone convey only part of the story the all-important number of opportunities the player has to compile his total being missing. The result would more than justify the additional amount of work entailed. Other leagues do it. Why shouldn't the WCHL?

Mac Colville, mentioned as a possible successor to Paul Thompson as coach of the Vancouver Canucks, has arrived home after finishing the season with New Haven in the American loop. Bill Gadsby, ex-Canadian junior who made an early and a very successful jump to the Chicago Black Hawks via Kansas City Pla-Mors, reached the city Monday afternoon.

In Stanley Cup Play

Edmonton-Ottawa Go Gorman's Big Thrill

In an earlier hockey era no Stanley Cup play-off was complete without volatile Thomas P. Gorman leading one of the puck brigades. Here "T.P." whose teams won six Stanley Cups, reminisces about his play-off days. Written for the Canadian Press.

By Tommy Gorman

OTTAWA, April 8 (AP)—When it's Stanley Cup play-off time and you're after thrills the boys will have to go some to produce the excitement and hockey glory of Ottawa's famous "Super Six", the Senators, who travelled 6,000 miles to bring home the Stanley Cup in 1923.

Sure, it's a long way back to that series between Ottawa and Edmonton at Vancouver but it is still my greatest thrill, the way the Super Six beat back Edmonton after eliminating Vancouver in the first round.

WE WON THE FIRST game 2-1 on Cy Denney's goal in overtime and then faced the powerful Eskimos two nights later in the deciding match. The Eskimos were really strong with such great players as "Bullet Joe" Simpson and Duke Keats, then at the peak of their form.

The final was a terrific battle and the winning goal was scored by Harry (Punch) Broadbent on a high shot from the right wing which scored before Hal Winkler had time to move in the Edmonton net.

THAT WAS THE REAL top-notch, that game, and it won the series and the world championship. We had only seven men left for the final game. And that game, in which Clint Benedict obtained a shut-out, was the game in which Frank (King) Clancy played every position, even going into Ottawa Senators' nets when Benedict received a two-minute penalty in the third period.

OTHER PLAY-OFF thrills? Many of them. There was the night in Chicago (Gorman coached Chicago in 1934) when Mush March scored the Stanley cup-winning goal against Detroit. One year later (Gorman coaching Montreal Maroons by now) Baldy Northcott, in a heart-breaking overtime game, passed a puck from Bob Gracie and eliminated Chicago which paved the way for my second Stanley cup in two consecutive seasons. One week later Dave Trottier won the Stanley Cup for us with an overtime goal against Toronto Maple Leafs.

But I'll still take that Punch Broadbent goal on that wild 1923 night in Vancouver when Senators lived up to their name of the Super Six.

Winnipeg, Regina Share Cup Games

REGINA, April 8 (CP)—Al Pickard, vice-president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association announced Monday that Winnipeg and Regina will share Memorial cup games this year.

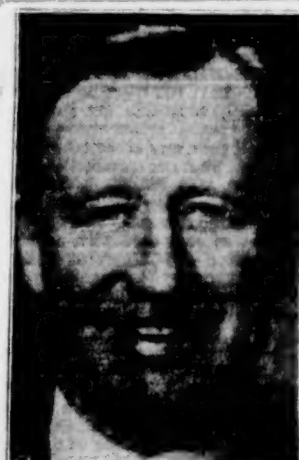

If Brandon Elks beat Moose Jaw Canucks in the western playoffs the first two games of the Memorial Cup series will be played at Winnipeg before the teams move to Regina. If points are split on the first two games the first three will be played in Winnipeg.

If Moose Jaw wins, the opening game will be held at Winnipeg before the teams will swing back to Regina and Moose Jaw.

Elks, leading 3-1 with one tie, need only a tie to win the best of seven series. Next game is at Regina tonight.

No dates of Memorial Cup play were announced pending outcome of the eastern playoffs between Toronto St. Mike's and Montreal Canadiens, with the former holding a two-game lead.

However, Memorial Cup play is expected within about 10 days.

Albright to Miss Opener in Calgary

WINNIPEG, April 8 (CP)—Winnipeg Flyers, minus Mike Yaschuk, Manitoba league leading scorer, Jack Messett and Clint Albright but plus Sam Fabro and Hughie Bell, leave today for Calgary and the first two games of the best-of-seven senior hockey final with Calgary Stampede. 1946 Allan cup champions.

THE FLYERS PICKED up Fabro and Bell from Winnipeg Stylats with the blessing of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association as replacements for Yaschuk, out with a broken collarbone, and Messett, whose hand was broken. Albright will miss the first game because of a university examination but will go to Calgary for the second.

Coach Art Bennett will use Fabro on the line with Don McKee and Don Raleigh and Bell will centre the Bob McDonald-Jack Kernahan string. The other forwards are Barney O'Connell and Paul Kornek.

As defencemen Flyers have Bob Sykes, Bob Telence and Bob Craig with Bun Nicholson in goal. The Calgary games are scheduled for Thursday and Saturday and the teams then come to Winnipeg.

Winnipeg Cagers Down Raymond

RAYMOND, Alta., April 8 (CP)—Winnipeg St. Andrews defeated Raymond Union Jacks 63-53 here last night in the first game of their two-game total point series for the right to meet the British Columbia champions for the western Canada senior men's basketball championship. Second game of the series will be played here tonight.

The game, played before a capacity crowd in the Raymond opera house saw the Manitoba champions take an early lead and maintain it throughout.

Showing superiority in ball handling St. Andrews baffled Jacks in the first two quarters with their clever passing attack and accurate shooting, as well as their knack of intercepting passes.

Dick Metz Asks Investigation

ATLANTA, Ga., April 8 (AP)—Dick Metz Monday requested a formal investigation of his recent one-punch altercation with Fred Corcoran, Professional Golf Association tournament manager, as he denied Corcoran's charge that the blow was "a sneak attack."

Metz, veteran of 20 years competition, who struck Corcoran in the mouth during the early part of the winter tour in California, wired PGA President Ed Dudley asking that the association's executive committee conduct a hearing.

Corcoran, flustered by Metz after an argument in the latter's automobile as an old feud between the two flared anew, has charged that he was the victim of "a Pearl Harbor."

METZ, WHO HAS issued only one statement on the fight—the morning after it happened—said at the time that he and Corcoran had left the car for the express purpose of settling the controversy.

He said that after telling Horton Smith, another golfer who accompanied them, that "Fred and I are going to take a walk," he delivered the punch when Corcoran "turned suddenly and made what I judged to be a threatening move. I acted spontaneously, in self defence, under the circumstances."

Metz, who came here to join his family after competing in the Masters tournament in Augusta where he finished in an eighth-place tie, gave copies of the telegram to the press.

THE TELEGRAM READ: "During the spring tournament schedule I have refrained from making any statement concerning my controversy with an official of the PGA in order not to embarrass tournament sponsors. Now that the present series of winter and spring tournaments has closed, I wish to have an opportunity to defend myself."

"An official of the PGA, Fred Corcoran, who is manager of the tournament bureau, has stated, and it was widely publicized, that I struck a foul blow. He has also provided newspaper writers with information upon which stories were published criticizing my war record."

"I want an opportunity to prove that I did not, as charged by your official, strike a 'foul blow' and that the records of my draft board will prove that any inference that my war record is open to criticism, is false."

Ruth Consultant To Ford Motor Co.

NEW YORK, April 8 (AP)—Babe Ruth and the Ford Motor company announced Monday that the former major league slugger had agreed to become a consultant to the company in connection with the American Legion junior baseball program.

"They call me a consultant," said the Babe at a press conference, "but I want to say right here that I will work on it as hard as my health will permit."

Ruth, who underwent a serious and delicate neck operation on Jan. 6, leaves today for a two-week vacation in Florida.

Classy 5-Pin Team To Represent City

High Hopes Held For Successful Defence of Title

A galaxy of bowlers with a combined average of almost 230 has been selected to represent Edmonton in defence of the Western Canada championship, which will be staged at Calgary May 23 and 24.

The team, announced by Mamie McNabb, secretary of the Edmonton Five Pin Association, includes Ralph Jones, Western Canada and Edmonton singles champion, and the majority of the girls who carried off the ladies' team title last year.

LAST YEAR the Edmonton contingent brought home the flag, emblem of the championship, and after announcing this year's delegation to the South Mrs. McNabb went right out on a limb with the declaration: "I have a great deal of faith in this band of trappers, and I am certain they will bring home the bacon."

The Edmonton association is not a bit superstitious, either. It named 13 players to the team, but the group will also include three officials, Mrs. McNabb, President Jimmy Rutherford and Grace Forbes, treasurer.

The Edmonton representatives, who will compete against the best from Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Dawson Creek, Vancouver and Calgary, and their averages at the close-off date, March 29, follow:

ERNIE FORD, highest average for men in the city, 242; Evelyn Green, highest average for women in the city, 234; Andy Aldi, 239; Jack McCallum, 238; Ben Hoffmeister, 239; Hee Turvey, 235; Fred Stewart, 234; Ralph Jones, 227; Marie Sangster, 227; Vi Foster, 216; May Smith, 217; Winnie Rutherford, 216, and Alice Johnston, 215.

At the conclusion of the tourney officials from here will attend a meeting of the Western Canada Five-Pin Association.

THE BOWLING season here is coming into the home stretch and just to make things interesting for the other teams in the Monday Night Mixed League the National Home team posted a 3,802 total for three games, highest of the season, last night.

The members of the team and their individual scores follow: Hee Turvey 827; Mrs. Mary Brown 832; Mrs. Vic Ware 704; Evelyn Green 851; and Don Cavanagh 548.

Williams Homers At Boy's Request

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 8 (AP)—Tommy Seessel has a story involving baseball's Ted Williams who pulled an off-lod Babe Ruth stunt.

Tommy was sick with influenza Sunday but his spirit was sicker still with the heartbreak that only a nine-year-old hero worshipper can feel.

Williams, the Boston Red Sox slugging outfielder, was in town. But Tommy, who had worshipped him for so long from afar, wouldn't get to see him.

ON SUNDAY Tommy's father, Ben Seessel, was driving downtown when he saw Williams. Seessel told Williams the story, asked the ball player if he would come to Seessel's home a few minutes.

Williams walked into the Seessel home, Tommy's jaw dropped. His face paled. His fondest hopes were surpassed—here he was in the room with the man he had dreamed of seeing only from afar.

Soon came the inevitable question. Would Williams hit a homer for Tommy?

"HOW FAR'S the right field fence," asked Williams. Tommy didn't hesitate a second. "It's 330 feet," he said.

The slugger replied he would do it—just for Tommy.

Williams came to bat this afternoon in the second inning of the Boston-Cincinnati game. It was his first time at the plate.

The first ball was wide. On the next one Williams swung with all his power. The ball soared at least 100 feet beyond the right field wall.

First Montreal-Toronto Final For Stanley Cup Opens Tonight

MONTREAL, April 8 (CP)—Hockey fever hit this town Monday in advance of the opening of the first Stanley Cup final in history between the National Hockey League's Canadian rivals, Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens.

Winners in the semi-final rounds against Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins respectively, Leafs and Canadiens will meet here tonight in the first of the best-of-seven final series. Second game will be played here Thursday with the teams moving to Toronto for the third and fourth games April 12 and 13.

PREDICTIONS FROM BOTH CAMPS were reserved and coach Dick Irvin of Canadiens said the only thing certain about the series is that it will go four games. Another certainty is that there will be sell-out crowds for all games in Montreal and Toronto.

Canadiens have been idle since ending their tough, home-crushing series with Boston last Thursday. The Montrealers won the round four games to one but lost the service of star defenceman Kenny Reardon, who severed a tendon in his big toe, and centre Ken Mosdell, who broke an arm.

MOSELLE IS OUT FOR THE SEASON and general manager Frank Selke said late Monday that Reardon, still in hospital, won't play before Saturday at the earliest.

In Toronto, during the weekend, Selke said of the Irish rearguard's injury: "If it was anybody else but Reardon he would be through for the year. But that fellow has to be stone dead before he can be officially declared out."

The Leafs, youngest team ever to play for the Stanley Cup, think their reserve power may outweigh Canadiens' experience in the final series.

In addition to Mosdell and Reardon, Canadiens are without Elmer Lach, centre man of the punch line who fractured his skull in a regular season game against the Leafs.

St. Mike's Increase Lead Over Canadians

MONTREAL, April 8 (CP)—Toronto St. Michael's, backed by the stellar goal tending of Howie Harvey, showed too much speed and polish around the nets for Montreal's junior Canadiens here last night as they whipped the young Habitants 5-1 to take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-five Eastern Canada junior hockey final.

Puutka, Paul, Harrison, Mackell and Costello bagged the Toronto goals while Denny was the lone Canadian scorer.

AFTER THE POWERFUL Majors went ahead 1-0 at 1:01 of the opening frame they held command at all times and appeared to be taking things easy in the latter stages of the fixture. Canadiens' star blocker Joe Lepine aggravated an old shoulder injury after five minutes of the first period and didn't appear again which weakened Montreal's short-staffed rearguard.

While Harvey was outstanding in the Toronto cage, goalie Roy Schurrah in the Montreal nets looked bad on three of the five goals that beat him.

AFTER LEPIE was injured his defence partner Ernie Roche played the rest of the game and was a standout on the Canuck team. Canadiens didn't have the scoring punch when they were in close and time after time shot right into Harvey's pads.

TORONTO ST. MICHAEL'S—Harvey, Wolt, Paul, Harrison, Mackell, Costello, Sula, Puutka, Winslow, Harrison, Hannigan, Migay, McEllan, Williams.

MONTREAL CANADIENS—Schurrah, Lepine, Roche, Schutt, Fryday, Trudel, Sula, LaPlante, Orlando, Minogue, Denny, Newton, McEwan, McDonald, Ottawa.

Heafner Shoots Seven Under Par

SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 8 (AP)—Clayton Heafner of Charlotte fired a seven-under par 64 Monday to win the 18-hole Peach Blossom tournament over the Spartanburg Country Club. The score was a course record.

Heafner finished four strokes ahead of Jimmy Demaree of Uja, Calif., who won the Augusta Masters tournament Sunday, and Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Texas, who came out of retirement to finish in a second place tie in the Masters.

Bucharest Black Marketeer Is Paraded

The black market scourge in Bucharest, Romania, has become a problem of dire importance to the populace which finds food and clothing almost non-existent at the shops, and for sale only at fabulously high prices in the illegal market. Even public officials have become contaminated by their association with black marketeers. Here Inspector Patrascu of the Bucharest municipality, who was entrusted with the administration of foodstuffs for all city employees, is paraded through the streets of the city with a placard around his neck reading "Patrascu has sold on the black market one wagon of sodium, necessary to the workers and employees. We demand an exemplary punishment."

DO YOU HATE TO GET UP IN THE MORNING?

Doesn't it feel grand to wake up clear-eyed, refreshed, ready for a busy day? Yet many people get up tired and grouchy, never really feel their best.

The reason is often a very common cause—a sluggish system clogged with food waste. If you are like most people, you need help every so often to clean out your system, get back pep. You can do this so gently with the extra-mild action of purely vegetable BILE BEANS—the largest-selling liver pills in Great Britain.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK (AP)—Modest advances were fairly well distributed in the forepart of the session. Motors and steels led the late decline. Dealings, sluggish the greater part of the day, quickened sufficiently to put the recording machinery into motion late toward the last. Transfers for the five hours ran to around 1,000,000 shares for the first time since March 27.

McIntyre, down 1 point at midday, was the heaviest loser among Canadian issues which generally were off fractions. Distillers Sea-grain lost 1/2 and Hiram Walker eased 1/4. Canadian Pacific was unchanged.

Our Town

By Jack Scott

Now, Smile!

My suspicion of photographers goes clear back to the one who placed me on a shawl, stomach down, naked as an apple, and created a family joke that lasted 30 years.

This was a cowardly thing to do to a child as bare and helpless as that one. I recall nothing of the event, personally, but from the pained look on that pucker-faced and the pure malevolence in the eye, I know that I was not happy. A hunting acquaintance, on getting his first sight of this picture in the family album, described it perfectly. He said it looked like something over the fireplace in his den.

This was my first painful experience with the sadistic breed known as studio photographers but not the last.

The next occasion on which I was propped in front of the lens had a profound effect on my life. This was for the purpose of the high school annual. I was at that age when a boy begins not only to peer at himself thoughtfully in mirrors, but, behind locked doors, juggles two mirrors to get the truth on his profile. I had (and, some say, still possess) a profile like an eager wart hog and this seemed true, no matter which way the mirrors were tilted.

Yet that picture presented my face as a thing both handsome and serene. The face itself was diffused beyond recognition, but at that time my hair was rather distinctive, resembling a clump of wild prairie grass, and I was thus able to positively identify myself as this beautiful thing.

I suppose that was when I began to be insufferable.

New Encounter

I've just been cloistered with a photographer. I have the picture right beside me at this moment. All that's missing is the easel and white lilies.

I am now convinced that all studio photographers operate alike. In fact, looking at this stranger's countenance before me, I am wondering if they may not all be using the same picture. This looks suspiciously like the one I saw in the photographer's window on the way in.

The modern technique, of course, is to emphasize the "naturalness" of the subject. To this end, the photographer places his victim on a hard stool, twists his neck around, pulls his chin in, commands the poor sap to smile (although he may not have smiled in 40 years), and then goes away somewhere, perhaps for a cup of tea, leaving the customer in this tortuous position, the first clear flame of hatred burning inside.

The Look

At best, most of us are inclined to feel a certain strangeness before the cold, unblinking eye of the camera. On our face comes the expectant look of a man blowing up a cheap balloon.

The smile, itself, is a weak baring of the teeth, the false simper a man gives to near relatives on being trundled off to the operating room. The eyes are glassy and full of deep distrust.

Merciful

The photographer himself bustles about, prodding his subjects into new and more agonizing postures and occasionally disappearing under a black tent behind the camera where he gives muffled instructions, waves an arm vigorously at the sufferer and may perhaps brew another pot of tea. Then come the lights. This is the most hideous part of all. Once bathed in this blinding glare all semblance of poise leaves the normal human being. He is trapped like an escaped convict in a spotlight beam. His collar begins to wilt, the perspiration streams from his brow and his one thought is to escape before he is tried to a crisp. At this precise moment the photographer takes the picture.

Mercifully enough, no one ever knows what this looks like in its crude state. Soon after the customer has escaped into the outside world a crew of oil painters is set loose on the result and work long into the night, reducing large noses, putting firm chins on weaklings, hair on baldies and generally fashioning a face of distinction.

The finished masterpiece, presumably re-photographed under water, is immediately called a "remarkable likeness" by all the subject's true friends and as the years go by he may even begin to believe it himself.

Pensioners Hear of New Legislation

The new bill passed by the Alberta Legislature regarding new pension legislation was endorsed by Edward C. Fisher, president of the Alberta Pensioners' Society at a meeting held Monday night in the IOOF Hall, 103 street. The hall was filled.

The new legislation provides free medical and hospital aid for old age pensioners, and the blind and their dependents.

Jack Jones, accompanied by Mrs. Robertson on the piano, led the audience in a song, which was followed by recitations by Mrs. S. Dunbar.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce showed four films entitled "Salmon Run", "The Story of Oil", "Canadian Screen" and a cartoon, "Home Town Olympics".

VIMY SMOKER

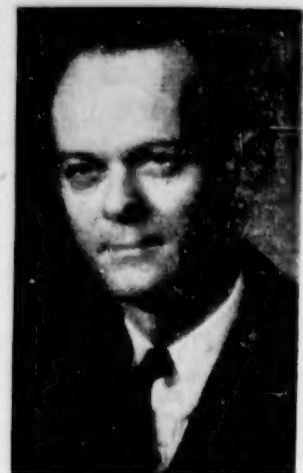

The annual Vimy smoker of the Strathcona branch No. 150, Canadian Legion, will be held at the club rooms at 8 p.m. Wednesday. The monthly meeting will take place at 2:30 p.m. next Sunday.

License Revenue Reveals Decline

Revenue collected by the city license department for the three-month period ended March 31, 1947, totalled $69,721.55 compared with $72,326.53 for the same period last year, a decrease of $2,605.08, according to Roy Foster, inspector of licenses.

Unseasonable weather in recent weeks was given as the reason for the decline in collections. He expects that with the advent of the spring-like weather that payments for bicycle and dog licenses will increase.

For the three-month period of this year, there were 5,083 general licenses taken out compared with 5,048 for the same period last year; 3,981 bicycle licenses compared with 4,211; and 2,291 dog licenses against 2,815 in the first three months of 1946.

Easter Program At Kiwanis Club

At a special Easter program held by the Kiwanis Club in the Macdonald hotel, Monday, Maj. Ivan Halsey, Salvation Army, gave an address on the observance of the Easter season.

A QUARTET consisting of Bandmasters A. E. Burden and Jim Taylor, Band Sergeant Burt Trean, and song-leader Frank McCreedy, accompanied Major Halsey to the meeting, and played and sang Easter Hymns.

W. T. Cromb, superintendent of rehabilitation in the department of veterans affairs, was introduced as a new member by Alan Macdonald.

IN OPENING his speech, Major Halsey referred to a portion of the Bible in Verse 22, Chapter 15 of the Gospel of Mark. He explained that the Cross was formerly a symbol of execution but when Christ was crucified, the Cross became a symbol of Christian ideals and learning throughout the world.

The Plain of Golgotha (Plain of Skulls), was a place of sacrifice, and it was there that Christ died, not a forceful death, but a voluntary one.

"He died so that we may live," he said.

The Rev. R. McElroy Thompson, minister of Metropolitan United Church thanked Major Halsey for his address.

President Roy Henry presided at the meeting.

More than 300 dogs, many of the finest "blue blood" in the canine world, were on display Monday and Tuesday at their annual spring championship dog show at the Prince of Wales Armory, sponsored by the English Cocker Spaniel Club of Alberta, Capital City Kennel Club and the Edmonton Kennel Club.

Minister in Charge Says:

Compulsory Insurance Plan Is Progressing

Necessary machinery to administer the unsatisfied judgment fund, Alberta's "compulsory car insurance" scheme, is being set up as rapidly as possible, Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary, announced Tuesday.

R. R. MOORE, provincial fire commissioner, and superintendent of insurance, will take up new duties assigned to him under the act, Mr. Hooke said. Additional staff and office space will be allotted to Mr. Moore in the administration building.

All accidents reported to the police are automatically reported also to the provincial secretary's department. It will probably be on the basis of these reports that the new office would take action.

IT IS EXPECTED that investigation, pending a possible call on the fund, will take place as soon as an accident estimated to cost more than $25 is reported.

No claims have yet been made against the fund, and every effort is being made to have the administrative detail established before such claims come in.

The fund will reach a total of $100,000 this year, it is estimated and any balance left over at the end of the fiscal year will continue into the following year. If the fund is insufficient to meet all claims, a call will be made on the general revenue fund of the province.

Board Clarifies Milk Regulations

Clarification of the regulations whereby milk distributors pay producers for their milk is contained in an order announced Tuesday by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

The new order does not set any new prices for milk, according to G. M. Blackstock, chairman of the board, but eliminates any misunderstanding as to interpretation of board orders.

The amended orders apply to producers in the Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat areas.

Hotel Men Silent On Rate Increase

Edmonton hotel proprietors in general had nothing to say Tuesday on the project of a raise in hotel rates following decontrol of accommodation by Ottawa.

They were awaiting the outcome of a discussion on the subject at a meeting of the Alberta Hotel Association to be held in Calgary Tuesday afternoon.

Most proprietors of Edmonton hotels said it seemed likely that hotels here would get in line with any decision that would be made at the association meeting.

Officials at the Macdonald hotel said they had received no word of a change in rates from head offices of the Canadian National Railways hotel system in the east.

It was pointed out that a change in rates would not be made locally. Edmonton hotelmen will hold a meeting here Thursday at which the situation will be discussed.

A hotel association official pointed out that as hotels in Alberta had not raised rates except in a few "special instances" since the war it is likely there will be a "small increase in rates" throughout the province.

Committee Plans Public Hearings

Public hearings by the committee set up to study amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act, and to report suggested changes to the next session of the legislature will be held at Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat in the months of June, July and possibly August.

This was revealed by R. A. Anderson, clerk of the Legislature who is also secretary of the committee.

Briefs for submission to the committee should be in his hands by June 1. Ten copies of each should be forwarded.

Organizations submitting suggestions will be permitted to make personal presentation of briefs at public meetings.

Briefs should be sent to Mr. Anderson's office in the legislative buildings.

Expect Decision On Wage Inquiry

Decision of a board of arbitration, in respect to a dispute over the appointment of a bargaining agent, between the Standard Iron Works and its employees, will be turned over to Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of Trade and Industry before Thursday, it was stated today.

Members of the board, appointed March 15, are C. A. Hyndman, Dr. J. L. Morrison and F. J. Mitchell, all of Edmonton.

HOPES FOR FUSION

The possibilities of amalgamating the RCAF and Army supply and transport services, in the Western Army Command, is the hope of Col. M. L. Breunlin, OBE, director of transport and movements army headquarters in Ottawa, who is a city visitor.

Delayed By Late Snow

Building Permits Total $1,176,711 for 3 Months

Building permits issued by the city architect's office for the three month period ended March 31, 1947 totalled $1,176,711, compared with $2,337,668 for the same period last year, a decrease of $1,160,957, according to figures released Tuesday by Maxwell C. Dewar, city architect.

THE HEAVY snow and unseasonable weather during March is accountable for most of the decline in building activities, Mr. Dewar stated.

Last year at the end of March there were 250 permits issued for homes with a permit value of $969,626. During the first three months of this year, only 85 such permits have been issued, the value of which is $398,200. The tempo of applications for home building permits has increased, and since April the department has issued 29 with a permit value of $118,000. During March this year a total of 174 permits were issued with a value of $814,098 compared with 403 permits for the same month last year, the value of which was $1,379,160.

Shortage of building materials and manpower is militating against the 1947 building program, Mr. Dewar stated, and it is anticipated that the construction estimates made earlier in the year will be considerably reduced.

Legion Is Ready For Vimy Parade

W. R. McLaren of the provincial command of the Canadian Legion will address the annual Vimy Day gathering of veterans commemorating the storming of Vimy Ridge to be held Wednesday evening in the Memorial Hall.

The Memorial Hall meeting will take the form of a smoker and concert and will follow a parade to the Cenotaph where a wreath will be laid by Percy Gwynne, president of Edmonton Branch No. 24.

Legion branch dean A. M. Trendell, Legion branch padre, will conduct a service at the Cenotaph.

Legionnaires wearing armbands, medals and berets will fall in before the Memorial Hall at 7:15 p.m.

BEFORE THE MAGISTRATE

Truck Driver Fined After Street Accident

Kenneth Bow was fined $50 and costs in city police court Tuesday by Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., or in the alternative, two months in jail. His driver's license was cancelled for three months. He was arrested on a dangerous driving charge.

Two persons were injured in traffic accidents Monday, Robert Terry, 10951 98 street, and Gerald Martin, 12410 105A street.

TERRY SUFFERED minor head injuries when struck by a bicycle operated by S. J. Binstead, 11950 91 street. The accident occurred about 5 p.m. in front of 10947 98 street.

Martin was going north on 102 street and when crossing Jasper avenue, his automobile was struck by a light delivery truck said to be driven by Kenneth Bow, 10352 92 street. Martin was knocked out of the car onto the pavement, and suffered slight bruises and shock. Bow was arrested for dangerous driving. The accident occurred about 9:15 p.m.

John Meakin, go fixed abode, the purse snatcher who couldn't run fast enough, was sentenced to six months with hard labor at Fort Saskatchewan.

The accused was arrested last March 28 after he had snatched a woman's purse and made off with it. Two men passing by chased Meakin and cornered him in a lane.

A city taxi dispatcher found that the minimum penalty deals heavily with bootleggers. He was fined $300 and costs or three months imprisonment. The accused sold a bottle of whiskey for $10.

Those who celebrated the Easter week-end by imbibing a little too heavily paid for their over-indulgence Tuesday morning. Nine offenders of the provincial liquor act paid a total of $225 and costs. In each case an alternative jail sentence was set by the magistrate.

Resolution Urges Immediate Action

Teachers Seek Salary Increase

Immediate increase in teachers salaries was urged in a resolution adopted by 200 delegates to the annual convention of the Alberta Teachers Association in convention at the Macdonald hotel on Monday. The resolution urged that the increase be sufficient to bring teachers salaries to a level where they would attract superior students, and draw back to the profession, many teachers who had left for more remunerative employment.

Railway Employees Will Get Boost

The maintenance employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway are going to get a ten per cent boost in wages.

This was disclosed in Edmonton today by the representative of the Grand Lodge, International Association of Machinists—J. H. Green.

Under the new agreement, the employees will also receive 12 days sick leave along with two weeks' holiday with pay. The workers have been granted a 44-hour work week, with provisions for the future adoption of the 40 hour week.

Minister Leaves After Brief Visit

Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, left Edmonton for Ottawa by train Monday evening after a brief Easter holiday visit home.

D. Walter Thomson, secretary to the minister, accompanied Mr. MacKinnon on his visit to his home riding of Edmonton West.

Warm Weather Prevailing Here

Warm weather will remain throughout today and Wednesday. The skies will remain clear today but will become cloudy Wednesday afternoon. Not much change in temperature is expected.

The maximum temperature yesterday was 50 degrees above at 3 p.m., while the low read 25 above at 5:30 a.m. The overnight low was 29 above at 5:30 a.m.

Little, medical officer of health. There were 28 chickenpox cases compared with 48; 28 of measles compared with 18; seven of mumps, the same number as the previous week, two of rubella and four of whooping cough compared with two.

Plan Active Week In Ritchie Area

Spring activities are holding sway in the Ritchie Community hall, starting Monday and continuing Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, according to Larry Hoffman, supervisor for the Recreation Commission.

A one-act fantasy, "Down the Crocus Tunnel" will be presented by the Ritchie Pee Wee Town Drama Club. The play, directed by Miss Rose Lammie, will mark the conclusion of eurythmic and drama classes held weekly during the last eight months. They were sponsored by the City Recreation Commission.

A group of 25 boys and girls, between the ages of seven and ten will make up the cast and are as follows: Carole Eldridge, Douglas Anderson, Wilfred Hjelme, Geraldine Troughton, Lois Ashton, Loreta Borsboom, Ellen David, Maureen Robinson, Elaine Robinson, Coyale Briggs, Sandra Briggs, Daphne Briggs, Peggy Hjelme, Roberta Bowen, Shannon Kiernan, Sharon Nicol, Dorthea Eldridge, Pat Lane, Beverly Garner, Donna Eldridge, Joy Hjelme, Joan Alexander, Johnny Muriand, Billy Muriand, Deanna Borsboom.

Magician's act, featuring Frank Betts, will also be on the program. The climax to the evening's entertainment will be marked by the Ritchie Fri-Ten orchestra, in its debut.

Why Grow Old?

Josephine Lowman
I receive many letters from readers concerning their neighbors. It certainly takes all kinds of people to make a neighborhood!

Of course the community you live in has a lot to do with it! There is a big spread between the impersonal city apartment house and the small town, over-the-fence, community.

I remember one time when living on the fifth floor of a New York apartment house, I did not know that the man above me had committed suicide by jumping out of the window until I read it in a Kentucky paper my mother sent me.

On the other hand, I receive letters from readers who say that they can get nothing at all done, and are always behind on their reading and work, because some one neighbor drops in constantly or calls on the telephone almost every day, for a long conversation.

Many persons really suffer losses in health and sleep and peace of mind, because of their neighbors! This seems too bad, because it is difficult at best, for people to live close together. No matter how thoughtful we try to be of us, if we live normal lives and enjoy our homes with any freedom at all, there are bound to be times when we annoy each other. It usually figures out about 50-50. You may keep them awake with a late party, while the roller skates of their children may drive you wild or visa versa.

Neighbors can be, and usually are, such nice people. Are you a good neighbor? As a general rule, do you keep things reasonably quiet from 9 or 10 p.m. to 7 or 8 a.m.? Do you make them feel your friendly interest without imposing too much on their time? Do you meet childish neighborhood fights with an open mind, not feeling that your child is always in the right?

Do you stand ready to help your neighbor in an emergency? Do you feel critical of him or her or do you give the same tolerance you, yourself, would like to receive?

Menace of Rats Outlined at Meet

Menace of invasion of Alberta by rats was outlined Monday morning to the annual spring conference of public health nurses by J. H. Brown, provincial entomologist.

THIS PROVINCE is the only area in North America which is clear of rats, Mr. Brown said, illustrating his lecture by a map which showed that rats had advanced to the provincial border from the west and were sending out lines almost to the Saskatchewan-Alberta border on the east.

The map is based on reports of evidence of rats as received from neighboring provinces from time to time.

Fifty nurses are expected to attend the conference, which will last until Wednesday afternoon. Of these, 35 are district nurses, five are connected with the child welfare department and the rest are employees of the department of public health, interested in public nursing.

Mrs. Jean Clark, superintendent of nurses and Mrs. Sheila Russell, assistant, are in charge of the meeting.

Sign Association Is Formed in City

A meeting of the Edmonton Sign Association was highlighted by the election of officers for the coming year. The association is composed of city sign and display men.

Those elected were: president, T. K. Fladagar; vice-president, A. Shuttlesworth; secretary-treasurer, James Lynch. Committee chairmen are: G. Blanchett, F. Harris, T. Fladagar, H. Spelman, and C. Rand. The grievance committee is composed of H. Rich, N. Dodge and P. Stocks.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The conflicting advice, "Let him cry it out," or "Don't let him cry it out," puts a young mother on the fence. Shall she pick up the child every time it cries and court spoiling him—so say the sages—or shall she allow him to cry and court personality disorders—so say the moderns?

The mother should think clearly about this subject and come to some personal conclusions. No one can dictate to her every act of her day. She should understand that the type of "crying it out" which is intended to discipline the child, she should not allow him to cry out when he won't go to sleep after a meal or when he cries before it is time to feed him or when he awakens in the night and cries. In every one of these cases the child is NOT to blame for the situation which makes him cry and allowing him to cry himself to the point of exhaustion destroys his sense of security and belief in the parents' loving, protective care. Such crying leads to personality disorders founded on the child's loss of security and confidence, even if the mother keeps telling herself that there is nothing the matter with the child and he has to learn who is boss.

What she should tell herself is that children do not cry long and persistently if there is nothing the matter, even though the reason behind the crying may be temporarily obscure.

Give the child the benefit of the doubt. If he doesn't go to sleep after a feeding then pick him up, burp him, turn him over, dry him and talk lovingly and softly to him. He isn't a criminal because he can't sleep. Then put him down again. This may have to be done several times but if the feeding has been adequate and the baby is ready for sleep, then it will be successful.

The mother of the crying baby must be critical of his feedings. Work on the basis that if everything were as good as it could be, the baby would be eager to sleep.

All hard crying or persistent crying needs attention as long as it persists. But the ordinary fussing, grunting, spasmodic crying, which a child may do preparatory to sleep, is of little consequence. Make him comfortable and he'll relax into slumber in this orally-active way.

It is fortunate that the old "cry it out" theory has been exploded and parents know that to practice it teaches the baby to cry and develops an unsure, unhappy personality.

Our leaflet No. 5 on, "The First Six Weeks," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.
